A Catholic College for Men

Conducted by

Brothers of the Christian Schools

Philadelphia, Pennsylvania

ACCREDITATION AND MEMBERSHIP

La Salle College is chartered by the Legislature of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and is empowered by that authority to grant academic degrees. It is accredited with the Middle States Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, the Pennsylvania State Department of Public Instruction, the Regents of the University of the State of New York, the American Medical Association, and the Pennsylvania State Board of Law Examiners.

The College is a member of the American Council on Education, the Association of American Colleges, the College Entrance Examination Board, the American Association of Collegiate Registrars and Admissions Officers, the Association of College Admissions Counselors, the National Catholic Educational Association, the College and University Council of Pennsylvania, the Association of Liberal Arts Colleges of Pennsylvania for the Advancement of Teaching, the Pennsylvania Catholic Education Association, the American Library Association, the National Commission on Accrediting, the American Catholic Historical Society, and the Educational Conference of the Brothers of the Christian Schools.

On Entering College

In planning your educational future, you are probably confronted with endless questions. Not the least of these is the question of choosing a college. One of the major purposes of this catalogue is to provide you with sufficient information about La Salle to help you decide whether it is the right college for you.

La Salle College is a Catholic college for men, founded in 1863 and conducted by the Brothers of the Christian Schools, a religious order dedicated solely to teaching. The college is located at Twentieth Street and Olney Avenue, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

The first part of this book, "The Character of La Salle," attempts to tell you in words and pictures what you can expect when you come to La Salle. The second part is a reference section in which you can find requirements for admission, probable expenses, scholarships, and other useful information.

This catalogue, however, can only begin your introduction to La Salle. We invite you to visit the campus to complete your introduction, to talk with faculty members and administrators, to find out for yourself the answers to any questions not covered here. Phone the Office of Admissions to arrange such a visit.

Brother Daniel Bernian, F.S.C.
President, La Salle College

Character

of

The Historical Side

La Salle's history had its modest beginning in the year 1863. It was in that year that the state granted the College a charter and the Christian Brothers brought the new institution into being. Its nucleus was the Academy conducted by the Brothers as an annex to St. Michael's Parochial School. In the years which followed, the College outgrew three locations—the parish site, a site at Broad and Juniper Streets, and the old Bouvier mansion at Broad and Stiles Streets. The College purchased part of Wister Farms in 1929 and began operating at its present site the following year, only to be faced with the dark years of the Great Depression. The war years which followed were even worse in their depletion of the student population of all-male colleges. With the end of World War II, however, La Salle faced a completely different kind of problem. The influx of veterans taking advantage of the G.I. Bill strained facilities to the utmost, but the College met this challenge successfully and began a carefully-planned development program to make ready for the expanding enrollments of the future.

Since 1945, La Salle has experienced the most dramatic period of expansion in its history. Present enrollment in both Day and Evening Divisions is approximately 5000 students, as compared to a 1940 enrollment of about 400. In the last fifteen years, twelve new buildings have been added to the campus.

The Evening Division was inaugurated in 1946 in response to the needs of industry throughout the Delaware Valley; within ten years evening classes were utilizing every available inch of classroom space. In 1951 the College added the Dixon estate in Elkins Park and established Anselm Hall as a House of Studies for student Brothers. In 1952, a new library was erected, and the following year the first of four new dormitories was opened to residence students. By 1955 the rapid growth of the College made it necessary to reorganize the administrative pattern into separate schools of Arts and Sciences, Business Administration, and the Evening Division.

The latest steps in the physical development of La Salle are the College Union, opened in 1959, the Science Center, which opened in September, 1960, and two more residence halls, completed in the spring of 1962. On the drafting board at present are a new chapel and another classroom building.

The Physical Side

La Salle College is spread over thirty acres of ground at the crest of a hill at Twentieth Street and Olney Avenue on the edge of historic Germantown. To the south you look out over the expanse of trees that is Wister Woods. Looking east, you can barely make out the busy scene that is Broad Street. The campus may best be described as a blend of city convenience and suburban atmosphere. The location can be easily reached by automobile or public transportation from anywhere in the Philadelphia area or from surrounding sections of New Jersey as far north as Trenton. Yet the peaceful atmosphere of the campus is set by the quiet green wooded areas that border it on two sides.

La Salle is fortunate too in having ready access to the educational facilities of the Philadelphia area. "The Old Capital" contains rich cultural resources in art, music, and history. Its many libraries, museums, historic buildings, and great educational institutions offer a magnificent heritage to the student. Nearby Germantown is the site of beautiful old homes and memorable locations dating back to Revolutionary times.

TWENTIETH

The campus itself contains every facility for your educational and social needs. A modern library, built in 1952, houses a collection of some 67,000 volumes and has files of about 365 periodicals. The stacks are open for browsing, and competent professional librarians offer guidance and assistance. The new Science Center contains the most up-to-date equipment available in modern lecture rooms and laboratories for the Departments of Biology, Chemistry, Physics, and Psychology.

The social heart of the campus is the recently completed College Union. Here you will find meeting rooms for the various student activities and every facility for informal recreation and relaxation. Two main dining rooms and a snack bar serve an appetizing variety of foods. After classes you may find time for a game of ping-pong or shuffleboard in the Club Room, or perhaps prefer to relax in the comfort of the Lounge or Stereo Room. The Union theater is the scene of first-rate college plays and regularly scheduled movies, while the ballroom offers a magnificent setting for dances. Besides supplying you with the textbooks you need, the Campus Store can take care of many of your other needs, from cigarettes to clothing. The fact that all of these facilities are under one roof is ample reason for the popularity of the Union among the students.

If you plan to live on campus, you will want to see the residence halls on your first visit to La Salle. There are six of these modern, three-story structures housing some 450 students. Each of the comfortably furnished rooms has a large picture window and offers pleasant accommodations for two.

The Human Side

More than buildings, more than books, more than lectures and examinations, education is a matter of people. It is the people who make up La Salle—the students and the teachers—who give the college its character. You may well ask, “What are they like, these people with whom I may spend my next four years?”

Among the students at La Salle there are few dilettantes passing idle years. You will find yourself part of a hard-working group. Many of them hold part-time jobs to pay for their education and they value it highly. The majority received their high school training in the diocesan school system of Philadelphia, but there are many from other states and several foreign countries. There are no exclusive fraternities or subtle “in-groups” and “out-groups”; when you become part of the college, you become part of the whole student community and share in its friendship and spirit.

Your teachers at La Salle are Christian Brothers, priests, and lay professors. All of them share the same goal: to be of as much help to you, the student, as they can be. St. La Salle’s dedication to teaching is the informing spirit of the college, and you will be conscious of this spirit in the willingness of your professors to give that extra moment of explanation or advice which can mean so much. While many of these men are engaged in their own scholarship or research, their primary focus is always the classroom and their basic obligation is to you, the student.

Making the transition between high school and college is never easy, but at La Salle you will find many people who want to help, and who understand some of the problems you face perhaps better than you do yourself.

During the summer months preceding your freshman year, you will be invited to come to the college to take a battery of psychological tests which become part of your personal file in the Counseling Center. Later you will have an interview with a counselor to discuss the results of your tests and your career plans. Besides this initial program of testing and interviewing, the Counseling Center offers continued guidance and services throughout your college years. If you are uncertain of your vocational plans, the staff is happy to assist you in making a sound choice based on your own interests and capabilities. The Center also offers personal guidance when requested, provides you with information about graduate and professional schools, keeps an up-to-date file of occupational information, and generally seeks to meet your needs in guidance and counseling. The services of a well-organized Reading Clinic are available when needed.

A week before the beginning of regular classes you will begin your program of orientation, a service of the Student Council to help you to familiarize yourself with La Salle. Students from the upper classes will meet with you to explain some of the activities and opportunities available, and faculty members will help you with the sometimes confusing task of registering for your courses. Emphasis in the beginning is on helping you to know your way around and feel at home at La Salle. Orientation periods continue periodically throughout the year, however, to aid you with your academic problems as you are faced with them. You will receive valuable help in improving your study habits, making better use of your time, taking good lecture notes, and writing good examinations. In addition to this general freshman orientation program, you will also have access to personal guidance from a faculty counselor assigned to you to offer you help when you need it.

Nor is your physical well-being neglected. A registered nurse is in attendance at the Infirmary every day from nine to three o'clock; the College physician is readily available should illness develop. If you live on campus the doctor will give you a physical examination as required by school regulations. You are encouraged to secure medical insurance, which is available through the Infirmary.

In your senior year, if not before, you will become acquainted with another person who works for your benefit, the Director of the Placement Bureau. His office exists to help you find employment after graduation or part-time work while you are attending college.

All in all, you will find the human side at La Salle an important part of your education. Long after you have forgotten painfully memorized facts from a textbook or lecture, you will remember the teachers and students with whom you associated in your college years.

The Social Side

In your daydreams of what college might be like, you have probably tended to favor the social side. No doubt you have already visualized yourself in the proper Ivy League wardrobe escorting the right girl to the Big Dance. You may even have pictured yourself in a lively “bull session” making profound remarks on foreign policy, or seen yourself calmly walking off the court after making the winning basket.

You will not progress very far into your first year before you realize that college isn't quite the way it is in the movies, but you will also realize that the extracurricular side of college forms a real part of your education. You will learn to live in close association with other young men, to plan social activities, and to exercise judgment and responsibility in self-government. As you take part in various sports, activities, and organizations, you will grow in poise and the ability to work with others successfully.

La Salle offers a varied program of athletics and activities to meet the needs and desires of all. The athletic program is arranged to allow competition at various levels, depending on your ability and skill. You may try out for varsity competition in basketball, swimming, soccer, golf, baseball, tennis, track, and crew. The College has often had outstanding teams in the various sports. The basketball team has twice won national championships; the crew has won the Dad Vail championship, symbol of small college supremacy, five times; the track team is a perennial contender for the Middle Atlantic States title. In addition to intercollegiate competition, there are also thriving intramural leagues in touch football, basketball, tennis, baseball, softball, and other seasonal sports.

Part of your adjustment to college life will be brought about by membership in student organizations and activities. There are now thirty-seven different organizations on the campus. Some of these are associated with particular areas of study, like the six national honor societies on campus; others are mainly social, like Sigma Beta Kappa and Phi Sigma Upsilon; still others offer opportunities for self-expression, like the Glee Club and the dramatic club, the Masque. You will find complete descriptions of the student organizations in the Handbook published by the Student Council, which will be issued to you during orientation period.

The job of keeping you informed about campus happenings is carried out by the Collegian, a weekly newspaper. Other publications are the college yearbook, The Explorer, and a literary magazine called Tricon, which publishes articles, short stories, and verse. Four Quarters, a literary magazine published by the faculty, also accepts student contributions that meet professional standards.

Your connection with college activities will not cease with graduation; the Alumni Association is a highly active group organized by classes and including regional clubs and professional groups. After you are graduated from La Salle, you will receive a quarterly magazine keeping you up to date on happenings at your alma mater.

A curtain call for the Masque's production of "Tiger at the Gates"

The Academic Side

If you are like most high school students, it is not easy for you to imagine just what your school day at college will be like. One thing you know: it will be quite different from the traditional high school day of five or six classes in a row. Let us imagine, then, a typical schedule at La Salle.

To begin with, your day will not always start at the same time. Sometimes you will have a first period class at 8:30; other days your first class might be at 2:30 in the afternoon. Neither will you have the same schedule of classes each day. On Monday you might have only two classes, while on another day you will have four. On the average, you will spend eighteen hours a week in actual class attendance as compared to the thirty or more hours spent in high school classes. Obviously, you will have much more “free time” on your hands, and it is the way you use this free time that is the key to your academic success.

The most important adjustment to collegiate life you will have to make is in learning to budget your time wisely. No one will force you to learn; no one can. Instead, you will be treated as a mature, intelligent young man. You will be given assigned readings, papers, and projects in research to be turned in by a certain date. You yourself must plan when these assignments will be done; you yourself must bear the responsibility for meeting standards set by your instructors.

The standards for academic achievement are treated in some detail in the reference section of the catalogue and need not be discussed here. The important thing for you to realize about the academic side of your college life is that it is the central test of your maturity and sense of responsibility. Learning is sometimes hard work, but it is the most rewarding kind of effort, not only in grades but in the self-satisfaction of having met a difficult challenge successfully.

But the academic side of college is not just a bleak picture of "challenges," "responsibilities," and "standards." The academic side really offers one of the deepest, most lasting joys a man can experience—the joy of understanding.

Suddenly some part of human experience fits into a pattern for you; suddenly you understand "why." The best part of the joy of understanding is that it is endless. The deeper your understanding goes, the deeper the satisfaction you experience.

Perhaps you haven't yet discovered this kind of joy; you may even doubt that it exists. Yet when you first experience it, you will begin to understand what education is all about and why many men willingly devote their lives to study and research.

The Philosophical Side

La Salle College is a group of buildings—brick, marble, limestone—situated on a hill overlooking Wister Woods. But it is also a great deal more. It is the embodiment of several great educational traditions: the Catholic tradition of striving for the perfection of one's God-given intellectual powers; the American tradition of educating men in the foundations and spirit of democracy and the roots of western civilization; and the La Sallian tradition dating back to St. John Baptist de La Salle, founder of the Christian Brothers and Patron Saint of Teachers. St. La Salle directed his Brothers to teach "the sons of artisans," those of moderate or minimum economic means who might otherwise have been deprived of educational opportunities.

In the light of these traditions, La Salle College aims at developing the man who, in the words of Pope Pius XI, "thinks, judges, and acts constantly and consistently in accordance with right reason illumined by the supernatural light of the example and teaching of Christ; in other words, to use the current term, the true and finished man of character." At the same time the College recognizes that, as an institution of the twentieth century preparing its students for participation in a world of ever widening horizons and complex problems, it must be a dynamic organization with a flexible program adaptable to the changing needs of society and the individual potentialities of its varied students.

OBJECTIVES

In the area of religious, intellectual, social, and personal development, La Salle strives to accomplish the following:

To accord the student a higher education with the theology of the Catholic Church as an integrating and informing discipline in all fields of learning and, for the Catholic student, as an independent area of study.

To provide conditions for student growth in the theological virtues, in worship, and in moral integrity.

To offer the student a liberal education, through general and specialized courses, in which he learns to observe reality with precision, to judge opinion and events critically, to think logically, to communicate effectively, and to develop his esthetic perception.

To acquaint the student with a body of knowledge about God; about man: his nature, behavior, and values; and about the universe.

To give the student specialized knowledge and skill in one field of learning not only as preparation for graduate study or for immediate entry into professional life but also as a basic instrument for his liberal education.

To prepare the student for informed and responsible service and leadership in his immediate communities and in the state, the world and the Church.

To help the student develop mature attitudes and behavior in all human relationships.

At the practical level of everyday college life, these aims are carried out in a variety of ways. You will of course take courses in theology, but such formal instruction is constantly supplemented by participation in religious services and an unobtrusive but genuine Christian atmosphere that pervades the campus. You will have courses in philosophy aimed at developing a rational approach toward ultimate goals. Courses in history and literature help you explore the foundations on which our civilization and traditions are based; outside lecturers and co-curricular clubs will further extend your interest in such intellectual exploration.

In all of its activities, and despite its marked growth in recent years, La Salle has retained the friendliness and close personal relationships which are major advantages of the "small college atmosphere." Neither has it lost sight of St. La Salle's goal of making education available to deserving students of modest means. You will find that tuition and other expenses are as much in keeping with this goal as possible, and that a student aid program and a loan plan are available to provide financial help.

Qualifications for Admission

Although La Salle has expanded its facilities to provide for an increased number of students, the College believes that its purposes can best be served if it maintains many of the traditions of the relatively small Catholic college. To do this, it is necessary to limit admissions to those applicants who show the most promise of profiting by the educational opportunities which are offered.

If you are well-motivated toward a college career and can show some evidence of academic achievement and ability, there is a good chance that the Admissions Committee will look with favor upon your application. In arriving at its decision, the Committee studies your high school record and the scores of your College Entrance Examination Board Tests, together with recommendations from your high school faculty, guidance counselor, and principal. The following are the specific requirements for admission:

Dr. McCarthy interviews a student in the Counseling Center

A. HIGH SCHOOL UNITS.

Applicants for admission must present a minimum of sixteen units of high school work which should include the following:

English	4 units
Mathematics:
Algebra & Plane Geometry or
Two years of Algebra	2 units
History	1 unit
Natural Science	1 unit
Foreign Language	2 units

	10 units

The remaining six units may be distributed as follows:

1. Applicants for the Liberal Arts program may present six other units in academic subjects.
2. Applicants for the Science and Mathematics program may present six other units in academic subjects but including an additional unit in algebra and one-half unit in trigonometry.
3. Applicants for the School of Business Administration may present six academic or commercial units, excluding typing.

B. LANGUAGE REQUIREMENTS.

All applicants should present two units in the same foreign language.

C. ADDITIONAL REQUIREMENTS.

Applicants to the freshman class are required to take both the morning and afternoon tests given by the College Entrance Examination Board:

- a. Morning Program—Scholastic Aptitude Test.
- b. Afternoon Program—
 1. English Composition.
 2. Mathematics.
 - a. Intermediate Mathematics for applicants to a non-science major.
 - b. Advanced Mathematics for applicants to a science major.
 3. Foreign language (to be taken by those who wish to continue the study of the language in college). Applicants who have a choice of a third test are strongly recommended to select the English Writing Sample.

The results of the morning tests are used to determine the applicant's qualifications for admission; results of the afternoon tests are used for placement in course programs.

Applicants for the fall term should take the morning tests in December, January, or March. The tests are also administered in May and August, but these may be too late for those who wish to apply for the following fall term.

Applicants who will live on campus are advised to take the College Board Scholastic Aptitude Test no later than January of their senior year.

The afternoon Achievement Tests may be postponed until March or May of the senior year.

Four to six weeks prior to the date of the tests the candidate for admission should write to

The Educational Testing Service
Box 592, Princeton, New Jersey or Box 27896, Los Angeles 27, California.

Arrangements may also be made through the principal or guidance counselor of the applicant's high school.

Candidates for admission must request the Testing Service to forward test scores to the Office of Admissions, La Salle College, Philadelphia 41, Pennsylvania.

EARLY ACCEPTANCE PLAN FOR HIGH SCHOOL JUNIORS

The Committee on Admissions will consider a qualified applicant for an early acceptance one year before he will be graduated from a secondary school. The following credentials are required for this evaluation:

1. A completed application to La Salle College.
2. A transcript of his three-year high school scholastic and personality records.
3. The results of the College Board-Scholastic Aptitude Test taken during his junior year or the following summer.

The successful early applicant must finish his senior year of high school with creditable grades, receive his diploma, and take the required College Board Achievement Tests for placement in his chosen course programs.

ADMISSION WITH ADVANCED STANDING

Transfer Students

Candidates for admission from colleges which offer courses of study similar to those of La Salle College should submit a transcript of high school work and college work as soon after applying for admission as is possible. All transfer students are required to submit the results of College Entrance Examination Board Tests.

The previous college record of the applicant must indicate good academic standing. No applicant will be accepted whose transcript reads "Academic Probation" or "Academic-" or "Disciplinary Dismissal."

No credit is allowed for courses offered with the lowest passing grade given at the institution from which the applicant is transferring. All transfer students must pass the Freshman Composition Test, regardless of their standing. This test is administered during the second semester final examination period.

A transfer student may be required to make up certain courses which belong to the sequence required in the program of studies for which he is applying.

No student admitted to advanced standing will be permitted to graduate unless he has completed his senior year as a full-time student at La Salle College.

Advanced Placement Program

La Salle College participates in the Advanced Placement Program of the College Entrance Examination Board. Consequently, the College agrees to give credit and/or advanced placement to students who perform satisfactorily both in college level courses taken in secondary school and in the advanced placement examinations administered by the Board. The standards used are the following:

5 or 4 merits	Advanced Credit and Advanced Placement
3 merits	same, on recommendation of departmental head
2 merits	Advanced Placement only
1 merit	no Advanced Placement or Advanced Credit

APPLICATION FOR ADMISSION

You may secure an application form from the Office of Admissions. When you receive this, you will also receive another form which is to be mailed directly to the College by your high school principal. The Office of Admissions will contact you as soon as possible after a decision has been made on your application. If accepted, you are asked to send along a $50.00 deposit with your confirmation; this amount will be credited toward your tuition when you register and attend, but will be forfeited if you do not.

ACCOMMODATIONS FOR RESIDENTS

If you live beyond commuting distance and are unable to live at home or reside with relatives close to the campus, you are required to live in the College residence halls. Exceptions to this rule will be allowed only with special permission from the Vice-President of Student Affairs and with the consent of parent or guardian.

Application for room accommodations should be made when you confirm your acceptance by the College.

The College supplies all necessary items of furniture. Each living area is provided with a bed, four-drawer chest and mirror, a student desk, desk lamp, desk chair, an easy chair, floor lamp, waste basket, and wardrobe. The College supplies all bed linens, including the spread, but you must supply your own blankets and personal linens. You must also take care of personal laundry, dry cleaning and pressing. Many of the personal items needed, such as toilet articles, laundry cases, towels, and sportswear, may be purchased in the Campus Store. When you arrange to live in the residence halls, you are required to sign a "Contract of Lease." Except in the case of mid-year completion, contracts are written to include both the Fall and Spring terms.

Resident students are held responsible for any loss or damage to the residence hall equipment, rooms they occupy, other parts of the building, when the incurred loss or damage is due to their negligence or improper use. Such damage or loss will be deducted from the student's damage deposit.

Occupancy may begin the day before the first day of registration and it may continue until twenty-four hours after the last final examination for the Spring term; or, in the case of seniors, until twenty-four hours after commencement.

Dining hall services and procedures have been set up for the benefit of the resident student community. High quality, good portions, and variety of selection are dependent upon total participation. Therefore, daily meals or week-end meals not taken are forfeited. There is no exception to this procedure and no adjustment in fees may be expected for non-participation. Special diets, because of illness or other conditions, may be arranged through the manager of the Dining Hall.

The Dining Hall is not open during the Thanksgiving Recess, Christmas Recess, between-terms recess, or the Easter Recess. If you remain on campus during any part of the excluded periods, you will be required to purchase your meals off campus.

Each floor in the residence halls has its own public phone. Residents may be contacted directly. Calls to residents should not come through the College switchboard.

Resident students may have a car on the campus provided they have the permission of parents. Cars must be registered with the Hall Director. Parking space is available adjacent to the residence halls.

REGISTRATION

Registration takes place during the week before classes begin in September. You will receive notice and complete instructions ahead of time. For students already in attendance, there is a pre-registration period for the following year during the Spring semester. When pre-registering, the student should keep in mind the fact that certain courses, especially in English and Languages, are offered in alternate years. Information about specific course offerings may be obtained from course advisors or from the Dean of your School.

Students who register or pre-register late must pay a penalty fee of ten dollars.

Expenses

In planning your college career, you will want to think carefully about the expenses to be met and the means at your disposal to take care of them. The College has traditionally struggled to prevent the rising cost of education from depriving worthy students of attendance; a number of scholarships are offered, part-time campus jobs are available, and, most important, a flexible bank loan plan has been instituted to make it possible to meet expenses in a series of regular payments.

The 1962-63 tuition for students carrying a normal schedule (as prescribed by the curriculum) is as follows:

Programs in liberal arts or business administration	$925.00
Programs in the sciences	$975.00

There are no additional fees for matriculation; registration; use of laboratories, library, athletic facilities, or dispensary services; participation in student activities; the student newspaper; or the student identification card for admission to athletic events. However, in the face of rising costs, La Salle College must reserve the right to amend or add to the charges at any time and to make such changes applicable to students presently enrolled as well as to new students.

Those taking less than a twelve credit hour schedule or more than the normal schedule will be charged at the rate of $25.00 per semester hour.

The cost of room and board for resident students is $850.00 a year. (Freshmen pay $875.00 to cover the extra orientation week.) This expense may also be taken care of through the Bank Loan Plan.

Incoming freshmen should also bear in mind the $25.00 fee which will cover the cost of the battery of psychological tests and interviews given during the summer. This fee can be paid on or before the date of the first test.

The books and supplies you will need can be purchased at the Campus Store. The estimated average cost of these items for the school year is about $60.00. If you are not presently covered, you may also wish to enroll in the Surgical-Medical Group Insurance Plan at a cost of $30.00 yearly. Further information is available from the office of the Vice-President, Student Affairs.

FINANCIAL ARRANGEMENTS

Most students or their parents plan to meet educational expenses either out of savings or out of income. At La Salle you may choose your financial arrangement accordingly. You may pay the full amount on the day of registration. (One-half the yearly tuition fee falls due on the day of registration.) On the other hand, you may wish to take advantage of the La Salle College Bank Loan Plan to pay tuition in regular installments over a fixed period of time. Many parents prefer this plan because it spreads the cost over current income. The plan is flexible and can be adjusted to the level of income. You can enter it at the beginning of any term during your college career. You may, for example, be able to pay for your first year out of savings but then enter the Loan Plan to finance the remaining three years out of income. You can obtain complete information on the College Bank Loan program from the Business Office.

NATIONAL DEFENSE STUDENT LOAN PROGRAM

A limited sum has been provided by both La Salle College and the Government of the United States for the purpose of making loans to students under the provisions of the National Defense Student Loan Program.

Students seeking information regarding eligibility and application should address their inquiry to the Vice-President, Student Affairs, La Salle College, Philadelphia 41, Pennsylvania.

DEPOSITS

Residence Halls Reservation and Damage Deposit. When making application for accommodations in the residence halls, the applicant is required to pay an advance deposit of $50.00. Upon his occupancy, $25.00 of this deposit will be credited to his Damage Deposit Account, and the remaining $25.00 will be credited to his Room and Board Fee. In the case of voluntary non-occupancy the entire advance Residence Hall deposit of $50.00 shall be forfeited.

Brother Daniel and Colonel Bennett review the President's Guard

ROTC Deposit. In the advanced course ROTC there is a required deposit of $50.00. This deposit is to indemnify the College for possible loss sustained in commutation allowance from the United States Government where a student's interruption of course is caused for reasons other than that of "at the convenience of the Government." This deposit will be refunded to the student at the completion of the course; or in the case of "Termination at the convenience of the Government," when the student returns his uniforms and equipment to the Military Department.

PENALTY FEES

The penalty fees as outlined below are to defray the expenses involved and to discourage indifference toward regulations.

Late Registration Fee. Students are required to complete their course registration within the period set forth in the College Calendar. Late registration is permitted only in the most unusual circumstances and requires the permission of the Dean of the School and the payment of a fee of $10.00.

Change of Roster Fee. After the second day of class, a change of roster will be permitted only with the permission of the Dean of the School, and a payment of a fee of $5.00.

Delayed Examination Fee. Students are expected to take their final examinations during the regular examination period. Final examinations taken beyond the regular examination period require the permission of the Dean of the School and the payment of a fee of $2.00 for each examination.

INCIDENTAL FEES

Graduation Fee. A graduation fee of $35.00 is due and payable on or before the fifteenth (15th) day of May preceding the candidate's graduation. The College cannot be responsible for the inclusion in the graduation program of any candidate who pays fees after this date. The graduation fee covers the Explorer (College Annual), Founder's Day Exercises and Dinner, Baccalaureate Services, and the cost of the diploma, the use of cap and gown, and all other expenses incidental to the commencement exercises. No candidate may be recommended for a degree, diploma, or certificate until the graduation fee and all other financial obligations have been paid.

Transcript of Record Fee. A fee of $1.00 is charged for each duplicate transcript of a college record. There is no fee for the first transcript.

REFUND OR REMISSION OF TUITION

Under certain circumstances, the student who withdraws before the end of a semester may receive a refund or a remission of part of the unpaid balance of his tuition fee. Complete information on terms and conditions may be obtained from the Business Office.

Scholarships and Awards

Scholarships awarded by the College are of two kinds—those offered in competition and those granted to specified Catholic high schools. Scholarships are valued at $700.00 a year for four years. Fees and other expenses are not included in the scholarship grants.

Four competitive scholarships, open to Catholic men who are high school seniors or graduates, are offered annually. Application forms for the competitive scholarships may be obtained from the Admissions Office of the College or from the applicant's high school principal. The completed form must be received by La Salle College not later than February 1st. The applicant must arrange to take the tests of the College Entrance Examination Board in Scholastic Aptitude no later than the January testing date. Arrangements for the tests must be made directly with the College Entrance Examination Board, Princeton, New Jersey. Applicants must request the Board to send results to the Admissions Office, La Salle College, Philadelphia 41, Pennsylvania. These competitive scholarships are:

- I The Henry T. Coleman Scholarship founded by the late Henry T. Coleman, Esq., in 1903.
- II The William F. Harrity Scholarship founded by the late Honorable William F. Harrity in 1913.
- III The Patrick Curran Scholarship founded in 1914 by Reverend Edward J. Curran, A.M., LL.D., in memory of his father.
- IV The Alumni Memorial Scholarship, founded by the College in 1947 to honor La Salle men who gave their lives in World War II.

Two additional competitive scholarships, the La Salle College Development Scholarships, were inaugurated in 1961 in anticipation of the College Centenary in 1963. One is offered to students of the Catholic high schools in the Harrisburg Diocese; the second, to the recently established Diocese of Allentown. Candidates for these scholarships follow the same procedure as above.

The following high schools enjoy the privilege of appointing an honor graduate to La Salle College each year:

Every high school conducted by the Christian Brothers in the Baltimore Province.

Every archdiocesan Catholic school in the Archdiocese of Philadelphia.

Application for these scholarships is made to the Principal of the high school, early in the senior year.
